‘The New Criterion’ is published by Faber & Gwyer Limited at 24, Russell Square, London, W.C.1 (Telephone Museum 9543), where all communications should be addressed to the Editor. Manuscripts cannot be returned, unless they are accompanied by a stamped addressed envelope, and no responsibility can be taken for the loss of manuscripts.

The subscription rate is £1 per annum, post free.
THE NEW CRITERION

BRITISH AMERICAN
ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY

A CAUSERIE

LONDON · NEW YORK · PARIS

Arts, The Theatre, Motoring Fashions, Books

Special Articles in January issue:

:: RARE BOOKS ::

FASHIONABLE DOGS

A SHORT STORY

BY C. PATRICK THOMPSON

JANUARY NUMBER ONE SHILLING

Post Free 1/3 from the Publisher:

BRITISH AMERICAN
45 FLEET STREET, LONDON, E.C.4.
FRANK HENDERSON
THE BLUE BOOK SHOP
AN INTELLIGENT SELECTION OF MODERN BOOKS
76 CHARING CROSS ROAD W.C.
GERRARD 6306

MINIMS by KAPP
WILL MAKE YOU LAUGH AND THINK AND ARGUE AND WONDER.

"A very original Christmas Fireside pastime."
—The Graphic Net.
"A delightful little book both interesting and amusing."
—The Weekly Westminster.

2/6

FABER & GWYER.

SERIES OF 8 LECTURES, ILLUSTRATED BY LANTERN SLIDES (Many in Colour).
MODERN PAINTERS FROM CEZANNE TO PICASSO.
By FRANK RUTTER, B.A., Cantab.
On Thursdays, at 5-30 P.M.
Thursday, 22nd January:—“Van Gogh, Seurat and Signac.”
At THE GROSVENOR SCHOOL OF MODERN ART,
33, Warwick Square, S.W.1.
Particulars from the Secretary.
"APOLLO"
A JOURNAL OF THE ARTS.

The January number contains an important article upon "The History of the Slade School" by Charles Aitken, in addition to other distinguished writers upon Art and Music. And.

Four superb Colour Plates.

2s. 6d. Net.

Obtainable at all Bookstalls.

Editorial Offices,
6, Robert Street, Adelphi, LONDON W.C. 2.
Poems, 1909-1925
T. S. ELIOT
"I like Mr. Eliot's poems so much that I am afraid of appearing exaggerated in criticising them."—LEONARD WOOLF in The Nation.
7s. 6d. net.

Critical Essays
OSBERT BURDETT
"Thoughtful, suggestive, and uniformly well written, as might be expected of the author of "The Beardsly Period.""—Truth.
7s. 6d. net.

Elnovia
GEOFFREY FABER
A Novel. Illustrated by GEORGE MORROW. 'To meet with a real satire after the manner of Swift and Samuel Butler is a rare event nowadays, but in Mr. Geoffrey Faber's "Elnovia" we have a country that immediately suggests comparison with Gulliver's strange discoveries or with "Erewhon.""—The Nottingham Guardian.
"...the book is an extremely amusing account of life as it is lived in that never-never land of popular fiction. Mr. Faber proves himself a man of great ingenuity. Mr. Morrow's drawings are a delight."—The Observer.
7s. 6d. net.

Cobbler, Cobbler, and Other Stories
C. HENRY-WARREN
"...the stories are told with vivid dramatic skill and powerful sense of atmosphere."—The Newcastle Chronicle.
7s. 6d. net.

Siren
C. KAY SCOTT
A Novel. "The heroine of "Siren" is a woman who can express herself only through her sex. ... Few who read it ... can be emotionally unmoved ... a work, in short, of a tempestuously rebellious imagination."—H. C. HARWOOD in The Outlook.
7s. 6d. net.

They Want Their Wages
HARRY COLINDALE
A Novel. 'In the moving scenes which follow, tragedy mingles with comedy, resetting the picture and confronting steel kings and agitators alike with the realities of a new industrial world.'—The Times Lit. Supp. 7s. 6d. net.

A Flower in Rain
LIONEL G. SHORT
A Novel. The chief character in it is London herself ... her graciousness is the atmosphere of the book from beginning to end.'—The Morning Post.
7s. 6d. net.

The Isles of Fear
KATHERINE MAYO
with a preface by LIONEL CURTIS.
"An amazing story of tyranny, corruption and inefficiency ... Miss Mayo gives astounding stories."—The Liverpool Courier.
"She gives a true picture of politics and society in the Philippines. Everything she writes can be tested."—The Spectator.
15s. net.